

Wales National Workforce and Reporting System (WNWRS)

Data Extract 31/03/2022

Thank you to the 76% of Practices across Wales who have already logged into the WNWRS this quarter and validated their data. If you haven't already, please log into the WNWRS as soon as possible and check all the staff records are correct for your Practice.

If you have any problems logging in or have any feedback on the WNWRS, please do not hesitate to contact us on the email address below.

Focus on: Vacancies

NHS Jobs will be updated for Primary Care Advertising from 7 March 2022. GPWales and NWSSP Recruitment Services are here to support you through the improved and streamlined functionality to ensure minimal disruption to you when creating a new vacancy.

GP Practices will still be able to create their Job Adverts on GPWales in the same way you do now, and Practice Managers will still be able to access NHS Jobs to download applicants and shortlist offline. There have been some updates to the shortlisting process, and it is important that you access the guidance documents provided by NWSSP Recruitment Services to understand what the changes are. These were sent out in an email from NWSSP on 1/3/22 to all Practice Managers. New Practice Manager accounts will be created, and you will receive notification of this and be required to set up a password to access. These will replace any accounts held in the current NHS jobs site. Primary Care Advertising webpages have lots of useful documents, guidance and a FAQ section that will support you through the recruitment process.

Knowledge Exchange Event

Cardiff University and HEIW are looking to invite those working in a General Practice surgery to take part in a knowledge exchange event that will explore the Primary Care skill mix in Wales and the place of Pharmacists in General Practice surgeries. We are eager to hear the views of a range of General Practice surgery staff, including clinical and administrative staff, those already working with a General Practice Pharmacist, as well as those who are not. The event will involve two-way exchange of knowledge and perspectives on the place of Pharmacists in general practice surgeries, their potential for added value, as well as challenges to their effective integration into the General Practice skill-mix. Such discussions will inform the development of materials that will be made widely available to General Practice teams and Pharmacists across Wales. If you or any members of your team would like to attend one of the knowledge exchange events please see the email sent to all Practice Managers on 3.3.22 for further information.

Should you have any questions or queries relating to this project, please contact Alison Bullock on bullockad@cardiff.ac.uk

Welsh Language updates

A very Happy St Davids Day to all! Please enter details of the Welsh Language skills for your Practice team in the WNWRS using the Welsh Language button in the Demographics and Education section of the individual's Staff Record.

Welsh Language

This helps us to understand the proficiency and availability of those able to speak Welsh and is used by our Stakeholders to plan effective training and service delivery across Wales.
