Brief description of the problem

Martindale Pharma has informed MHRA that the EAN bar code on the above batches is incorrect. The barcode reference should have been 5014124170278 however code 501412470261 was applied to the carton in error. The incorrect barcode scans the batch as Phenobarbital Sodium Injection 200mg/ml.

All other information on the carton and ampoule label is correct for the above batches of Phenobarbital Sodium 30mg/ml Solution for Injection.

The barcode error increases the risk of product mix up when an automated inventory system is used to dispense the affected batch within the pharmacy or wholesale facility.

Advice for pharmacists

The barcode should not be used for any dispensing activities for this batch. Please bring this notice to the attention of all relevant staff within your facility.

If you have supplied units from this batch to any other pharmacy or clinic, please forward a copy of this Alert to them.

Advice for wholesalers
